The new directors, chosen for three-year terms, are Miss Ann Faber, Gettysburg; L. S. Long, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Dorothy Elgin, East Berlin; Mrs. E. B. Romig, Biglerville; and Mrs. Harold Lerew, York Springs.

They will fill board positions now held by the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, Arendtsville, retiring president of the board and a director for about five years; O. H. Benson, Gettysburg R. College Instructor Speaks
The balloting followed the report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Hope Morgan, Cashtown, and additional nominations from the floor. Messrs. Frantz and Benson and Mrs. Johnson had asked the nominating committee not to present their names for re-election but all were nominated from the floor. The nominating committee included Mrs. Morgan, Miss Alice Black and Charles I. Raffensperger.

Introduced by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Taylor, graduate of the University of Oregon and mother of four, talked to the group about the life and writings of William Faulkner, recent winner of the Nobel prize in literature.

The speaker, who teaches creative writing at Gettysburg college, described Faulkner's writing as "violent, emotional and close to sensational and leaves you pushed out of the comfortable life world in which you have been living."

Faulkner, whose first novel appeared in 1926, was described by Mrs. Taylor as "a magnificent story teller with an extravagant style, but possessing the rich reality of simple speech." She spoke of the "deep sense of discontent" apparent in Faulkner's books but she removed the label of "pessimist," sometimes applied to him and described him rather as "a passionate idealist who sets a very high standard of morality in the Christian tradition."

Storm Victims Need Mattresses

A family of four made temporarily homeless by last week's storm has asked the Red Cross to help them find mattresses to replace their own which were soaked by rain and then frozen solid after the home was unroofed Saturday morning.

The beds are usable and neighbors are providing quarters temporarily until the family's rented home can be repaired sufficiently to permit their return. The family includes two young girls and their parents.

The mattresses that are needed are double bed size.

Over the week-end the Red Cross contacted and offered its services to families in need of emergency help as a result of the storm last Saturday morning.

STOLEN PIECES ARE RETURNED

A number of trophies, plaques and other items reported missing Monday from three fraternity houses at Gettysburg college were back today in their accustomed places, and college authorities labeled the whole affair "just a college prank."

The missing trophies, et cetera, were found Tuesday in a bushel basket in a corner of the physics lecture room, Dean W. E. Tilberg said.

As to who perpetrated the "prank," authorities said was another matter. "We haven't been able to find out, and we probably will never know," the dean said.

Nor has it been discovered who broke the porch lights at the Phi Gamma Delta house on the campus, but this probably was not connected with the other "prank," Dean Tilberg said.

An alumnus plaque, eight sports trophies and a composite photograph were taken at the Phi Kappa Psi house; the charter from the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, and a plaque from the Kappa Delta Rho house.

PROCESSING OF FRUIT TO GO ON INTO NEXT YEAR

The fruit processing season in Adams county has reached its climax and should continue until well after the first of the year, reports from two of the largest plants in the county showed today.

Several thousand workers are engaged in converting the apples into apples for pies, jellies and cider products.

The recent storm proved little more than an annoyance for the huge plants which annually convert much of the area's apples into apple products.

Donald Horst, crop supervisor for the C. H. Musselman company, reported that with practically all of the county's apples picked prior to the storm, the wind and snow and sleet caused no damage to this season's fruit and as far as could be learned caused only small damage to the trees.

Supply Adequate

Nearly all of the county's 1950 crop of apples has either already been delivered to the processors or has been placed in storage, Horst pointed out. Had the storm come several weeks earlier however, much damage might have resulted.

The Peach Glen plant of the Knoose Foods Cooperative will probably continue production into March. The Orttanna plant of the Knoose foods will continue operations well into the beginning of next year and the Musselman plants at Biglerville and Gardners will also continue in operation for some time to come, according to the reports.

Supply of apples, despite a slightly shorter crop than last year, was reported as adequate to the needs of the plants.

Many of the plants are operating day and night to take care of the production needed. At Peach Glen however only one shift was in operation this year, with the company planning to keep the plant in operation longer than usual rather than enter a relatively short labor market for enough help to man a second shift.

Goes After Turkey; Picks Off Venison

Lee M. Hartman, Hanover street, went hunting for turkey in Albemarle county, Virginia, and inadvertently became a "deer hunter" instead.

According to an article in the Charlottesville, Va., "Daily Progress," the former county prothonotary was driving along a road near Glendower Tuesday evening, November 21, when a six-point buck leaped off a high bank into the road in front of the car. The car struck the deer, killing it, before Hartman could stop.

Damage to Hartman's car totaled about $200 including damage to fenders, grill, radiator and headlight.

Eye-witness And Occupant Gives Details Of Wolford Mishap Here

An occupant of the automobile which was struck by Chief of Police Robert Harpster's automobile, which witnesses said was driven by Albert M. Wolford, former local policeman, revealed details of the accident which occurred shortly after midnight, Saturday.

The young lady said that the driver of her car had stopped behind another vehicle at the Baltimore street and High street red light. Wolford approached from the south and ran into the rear of her car, she stated. He then attempted to back away but the bumpers were locked, the young lady said. Other witnesses assisted in repairing the bumpers. Wolford then instructed Edward Stoner, driver of the machine that was struck, to drive to a garage where arrangements would be made for the repair of the damage, her account continued.

However, Wolford and another male occupant of his car did not follow the damaged vehicle, the witness said. Another motorist, "titled" Wolford who, they said, turned into the alley at the McClean building and turned off his car lights. When approached by the other witness, Wolford was asked, the witness said: "Is there any trouble?" to which he replied that there wasn't.

Stoner drove his car to one garage and waited and then drove to a service station but Wolford and his occupant failed to appear the young lady stated. The occupants went to the local police station and asked "Curley" Shearer, identified by the eye-witness as the officer on duty, for the name of the owner of the license number they had taken of the car that struck their vehicle. They were given the name and address of a Sharpsburg motorist, she stated. Suspecting that this was not correct they went to the local office of state police and were given the name of Harpster as the owner of the license plate.

Shearer told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times that the name and address of the Sharpsburg motorist that he gave them was the name of the owner that corresponded with the number given him.

"They came to police headquarters, gave me a license number, and I looked it up for them," he said. "I wrote the number on a piece of paper. The license number they gave me belonged to the Sharpsburg resident. I gave them the number they asked for."

The damaged vehicle was driven to the H & H machine shop where the damage was repaired. It consisted of a bumper, tail pipe, tail pipe bracket, rear gravel panel and repair and refinish work.

Wins Cash Award Over Station WGET

Mrs. Kenneth C. Brown, Gettysburg R. 1, won the "Sparky" jackpot award on WGET Tuesday night and was $132 richer today. The answer, which Mrs. Brown gave correctly, was the front door key to Gettysburg Motors, Inc. The program had been on the air 66 nights. A different phone number was called each night.

The Gettysburg Motors program started out originally as "Speedy" over nearby stations. When WGET went on the air, it was transferred to the Gettysburg station under the new name. A new "Sparky" question will start tonight at 7:45 o'clock, with a new clue announced over WGET.

Gettysburg Motors has been giving away free lubrications, trips to the movies, a dinner and other gifts to those answering the slogan when called to identify "Sparky."

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS REPORTS ON NEXT PLAY

Reports of ticket sales for the Allenberry play, "Papa Is All," to be given at the high school auditorium December 7 under the auspices of the Exchange club for the benefit of the Christmas lighting fund, were given at Tuesday evening's weekly dinner meeting at Bankert's restaurant.

The play is the second in a series of three to raise money to pay for the Christmas lights, a project undertaken by the club this year. The third will be presented by the Allenberry players in April.

Reports were given on sale of single admission tickets by John Wible, Harold Heiges and John Codori, three of the four team captains for the ticket sale campaign. More tickets are still available for the December 7 play. They may be reserved at the Bookmart.

Donations For Lights

Several cash donations to the Christmas lighting fund were received and acknowledged, among them the Moose lodge, $25, Elks, $15, Thrift Plan of Pennsylvania, $3, Fred Rider and Allen Weishaar, $1 each.

The club gained one new member and lost one. Clement Wagner was accepted as a new member. He is manager of the Roselle garment factory. The club accepted with regret the resignation of H. Leo Guls.

PROCESSING OF FRUIT TO GO ON INTO NEXT YEAR

The fruit processing season in Adams county has reached its climax and should continue until well after the first of the year, reports from two of the largest plants in the county showed today.

Several thousand workers are engaged in converting the apples into products for pies, jellies and cider.

The recent storm proved little more than an annoyance for the huge plants which annually convert much of the area's apples into apple products.

Donald Horst, crop supervisor for the C. H. Musselman company, reported that with practically all of the county's apples picked prior to the storm, the wind and snow and sleet caused no damage to this season's fruit and as far as could be learned caused only small damage to the trees.

Supply Adequate

Nearly all of the county's 1950 crop of apples has either already been delivered to the processors or has been placed in storage, Horst pointed out. Had the storm come several weeks earlier however, much damage might have resulted.

The Peach Glen plant of the Knouse Foods Cooperative will probably continue production into March, the Orttanna plant of the Knouse foods will continue operations well into the beginning of next year and the Musselman plants at Biglerville and Gardners will also continue in operation for some time to come, according to the reports.

Supply of apples, despite a slightly shorter crop than last year, was reported as adequate to the needs of the plants.

Many of the plants are operating day and night to take care of the production needed. At Peach Glen however only one shift was in operation this year, with the company planning to keep the plant in operation longer than usual rather than enter a relatively short labor market for enough help to man a second shift.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. William Coshun, Lincolnway East, today are quietly observing their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Coshun were married by Dr. L. S. Mann, of Littlestown, on November 29, 1900. Mrs. Coshun, the former Rosanna Epley, is a daughter of the late Jacob and Catherine Epley of Straban township.

Mr. Coshun is a son of the late Joseph and Sara Jane Coshun of Mt. Pleasant township. Mr. Coshun is 79 years old and his wife is 74. Both are members of St. James Lutheran church here. Mr. Coshun has served for many years as an elder in that church and is a former school director in Straban township. Both have lived all their lives in Adams county.

The couple has five children: Sara, wife of S. Ray Shetter, Biglerville; George, Barlow street; Chester, Cincinnati; and Mildred and Walter, both at home. They have eight grandchildren.

Because of Mr. Coshun's failing health, no special celebration of the anniversary was planned.

BULLETINS

London, Nov. 29 (AP) — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today Britain still hopes a settlement on "political lines" will end the threat of a third world war over Korea.

"If the Chinese want to avoid general war and if they show the slightest signs of willingness to co-operate in exploring a solution by peaceful means," the foreign secretary said, "I am satisfied a solution can be found."

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson will speak to the nation at 9 p.m. tonight (EST) on the crisis in Korea.

The State department announced that the secretary's 30-minute address will be broadcast by the Mutual, ABC and CBS networks. Acheson will speak from his office in the State department.

Goes After Turkey; Picks Off Venison

Lee M. Hartman, Hanover street, went hunting for turkey in Albemarle county, Virginia, and inadvertently became a "deer hunter" instead.

According to an article in the Charlottesville, Va., "Daily Progress," the former county prothonotary was driving along a road near Glendower Tuesday evening, November 21, when a six-point buck leaped off a high bank into the road in front of the car. The car struck the deer, killing it, before Hartman could stop.

Damage to Hartman's car totaled about $200 including damage to fenders, grill, radiator and headlights.

It was just as well that Hartman's car hit the deer, the report concludes—he failed to get a turkey.

Eye-witness And Occupant Gives Details Of Wolford Mishap Here

An occupant of the automobile which was struck by Chief of Police Robert Harper's automobile, which witnesses said was driven by Albert M. Wolford, former local policeman, revealed details of the accident which occurred shortly after midnight, Saturday.

The young lady said that the driver of her car had stopped behind another vehicle at the Baltimore street and High street red light. Wolford approached from the south and ran into the rear of her car, she stated. He then attempted to back away but the bumpers were locked, the young lady said. Other witnesses assisted in separating the bumpers. Wolford then instructed Edward Stoner, driver of the machine that was struck, to drive to a garage where arrangements would be made for the repair of the damage, her account continued.

However, Wolford and another male occupant of his car did not follow the damaged vehicle, the witness said. Another motorist "tailed" Wolford who, they said, turned into the alley at the McClean building and turned off his car lights. When approached by the other witness Wolford was asked, the witness said: "Is there any trouble?" to which he replied that there wasn't.

Stoner drove his car to one garage

Two U.S. Divisions Escape Chinese Reds; 110,000 More Are Facing New Korean Trap

Seoul, Nov. 29 (AP)—Two American divisions escaped south across the icy Chongchon river in northwest Korea today but Chinese Reds swarming through a wide gap threatened to trap a big Allied force.

The Chinese offensive mass of more than 200,000 men was reported using tanks for the first time.

A spokesman at advanced U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said one Communist column had cut within 30 miles of the former Red Korean capital of Pyongyang.

He said the Red force was near Sinchang northeast of the old capital but did not disclose its size.

At least three other Red Chinese columns were reported rolling down through the Tokchon gap in wide sweeps against the Allies' exposed right flank.

This was where Communist attacks earlier had crumpled three South Korean divisions.

110,000 Threatened

Another Chinese force was reported attacking for the first time on the extreme left flank, but the spokesman did not give the location.

A Chinese breakthrough in force to the Yellow sea would seal off large elements of the 110,000-man force fighting for its life in the northwest.

The Chinese Red attack was mounted by 200,000 or more troops with more pouring in steadily from Manchuria.

The spokesman said six Chinese armies now have been identified in Korea. Elements of one Chinese Army known to have been in central China a week ago, he said, were attacking the Eighth Army's northern front.

3-Prong Attack

The first observed Chinese Red tanks were reported across the Chongchon, rumbling from the west on Anunui, eastern anchor of the shrunken Allied line.

Kunu was the escape gate through which U.S. 25th and Second Division troops poured after crossing the Chongchon. The Reds were attacking from three sides. Kunu's fate was in doubt.

The U.S. 24th Division last was reported in the Pakchon area north of the Chongchon, guarding an escape route over the Anju river bridge on the far west or left side of the Allied line.

But the Eighth Army spokesman said no enemy contact was made Wednesday in the 24th Division sector.

Roads Are Jammed

Allied warplanes, grounded Wednesday morning by bad weather, roared over the front throughout the afternoon in close support of desperate ground troops.

Roads leading south from the shrunken front were jammed with refugees. Allied convoys rolled down clogged highways. Trucks, jeeps and heavy weapons inched along bumper to bumper.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander, said the Allies "end-the-war" offensive, launched Friday, "probably saved our forces from a trap which might well have destroyed them."

He said that if the Allies had waited, the Chinese Reds might have had 400,000 troops to throw against the Eighth Army.

Pound Retreating Yanks

The retreat across the Chongchon at Kunu was made under massive Red attacks.

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert, with the Eighth Army, reported at 6:43 p.m. (4:43 a.m. EST) that the river-crossing withdrawal in the eastern sector was all but complete.

But a South Korean Division to the west was still north of the river at latest reports, along with the U.S. 24th.

PICK SITE FOR H BOMB PLANT

Washington, Nov. 28 (AP)—A congressional source said today the Atomic Energy commission and the E. I. DuPont company have selected South Carolina as the site for the hydrogen bomb plant.

This informant, asking not to be named, said the location chosen is in Aiken and Barnwell counties about 15 miles from the town of Aiken, S. C., and about 20 miles from Augusta, Ga.

It is adjacent to the Savannah river and there are about 250,000 acres of land in the site.

The DuPont company had a hand in the decision because it was chosen as contractor for the plant. DuPont set up the Hanford, Wash., plant to produce plutonium, used in making the atomic bomb, but withdrew from its operation after the war.

Harrisburg, Nov. 28 (AP)—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti contends that all fraternal or veterans organizations employing bartenders are subject to provision of the state Labor Relations act. Margiotti took the stand in an answer filed in Dauphin county court to a suit brought by a Scranton Veterans of Foreign Wars post.

The case is regarded by lawyers as a test suit to determine whether unions have the legal right to organize bartenders employed by private clubs.

LT. GILBERT GETS 20 YEARS

U.S. Eighth Army Stockade, Tokyo, Nov. 28 (AP)—Lt. Leon Gilbert, informed that President Truman had commuted his death sentence to 20 years at hard labor, said today "that's a long time to be guilty."

Gilbert, a 31-year-old negro, was convicted of misconduct in the face of the enemy in action in south-eastern Korea last July.

The verdict was reviewed by his commanding general and then sent to the judge advocate general's office in Washington for review. It then went to the President for final review. The President's decision was announced Monday in Washington.

Gilbert said he does not consider himself guilty of the offense as charged.

"It was very good to know that I am not going to be executed," he said today, "but 20 years is still a long time to be guilty."

Gilbert was found guilty of refusing to obey a direct order to return, with 11 other soldiers, to a hill where he had been supposed to be defending an outpost. Gilbert said the hill had been surrounded by North Koreans, that he had led his men out through two ambushes and that he had tried to explain to a superior that they could not return to the outpost.

INVITE COURT TEST OF VOTE

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 28 (AP)—Michigan's state Board of Canvassers has invited a court test over the controversial question of who will be governor after January 1 — if a recount of ballots isn't completed by then.

The board refused yesterday to certify that Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was re-elected in the error-plagued November 7 election.

The official canvass showed Williams defeated Republican Candidate Harry F. Kelly by just 1,154 votes of nearly two million votes cast.

The all-Republican board's refusal to certify Williams' election tosses the question to the Supreme Court. Because of key appointments at stake, both parties are anxious to control the gubernatorial post after January 1 if the recount is not finished by then.

The Democrats argue that Williams should retain his post until the issue is settled and the Republicans say Republican Lieut.-Gov.-elect William C. Vandenberg should become acting governor.

The minister remarked in the introduction that these ancient words were fulfilled today in the death of Dr. Martin. He said Dr. Martin was a prince in the community, where people have remarked that they could always depend upon him when they needed him. He was a prince in the church where he was a faithful and capable elder for 23 years and a trustee for 25 years.

COST OF LIVING REACHES NEW
ALL TIME HIGH

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The government's cost of living index today rose to a new all-time high. Nearly a million workers whose wage contracts are tied to the rise and fall of the index will receive a pay hike of two to three cents an hour.

The new index, covering prices as of Oct. 15, was 174.8 per cent of the 1935-39 base period, an increase of 0.6 per cent since September 15.

It was 0.2 per cent higher than the previous peak of 174.5 in August and September, 1948.

General Motors corporation, first of the major auto manufacturers to adopt the cost of living formula for its workers, announced immediately 357,000 hourly-rated workers will receive an additional three cents an hour. The boost will be effective with the first pay period beginning after Dec. 1.

Approximately 80,000 GM salaried workers will receive an additional $15 as their allowance for the period between December 1 and next March 1, to be paid at the close of the quarter next March.

General Motors is granting its workers the maximum allowance based on the rise in the cost of living between July 15 and October 15, having agreed with the CIO Auto Workers Union to incorporate a new rental adjustment advocated by the Bureau of Labor statistics in compiling the index.

The case may be different for other workers whose contracts also contain the cost of living formula. In the event their employers do not agree to the rental allowance—amounting to 1.3 percentage points in the index—they will receive only two cents an hour increase. That would be based on the actual rise in the index between July 15 and October 15.

Civil Defense Is
Chief Aim, Says Fine

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—Governor-elect John S. Fine said today that Pennsylvania's civil defense program will be one of the chief projects before the state legislature when it convenes in Harrisburg Jan. 2.

Fine, on a "working" vacation here, disclosed that in view of the present international situation he is ready to ask the legislature for any funds that Maj. Gen. Richard K. Mellon, state defense chief, says are needed.

"Pennsylvania will get the best available manpower and tools for the job," Fine said.

"Estimates now being prepared by General Mellon indicate that stockpiling of medical supplies and equipment may cost in the vicinity of $25,000,000."

Detroit, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ten persons were injured in a spectacular mid-morning crash of a hook-and-ladder fire truck and a streetcar Tuesday in Detroit's busy Cadillac Square. Five firemen, the streetcar motorman and four passengers were hurt, four possibly seriously. The $40,000 fire truck was jack-knifed, the streetcar derailed.

Capacity Crowd At Church On Monday

A capacity crowd attended the showing of the film, "Southern California, the Land of Enchantment," by Charles Ness, York, and a musical program presented Monday evening in the educational building of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church under the sponsorship of the Barkley Circle of the Women's Guild.

Gold pencils were presented by Mr. Ness to the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, Arendtsville, for correctly translating the German word, "law-warick," as meaning apple butter; Mary Flickinger for identifying the capital of California, and Mrs. Harrison Harbach for knowing the reason swallows return to Capistrano.

Also included on the program were a piano solo by Miss Alice Snyder; two vocal selections by Miss Louise McDannell, for which Miss Grace Nolt played the accompaniment, and a solo by John Kendeheart.

The silver offering amounted to over $100.

A constitution was adopted to rule the operation of the league. The governing body of the league will be a board of directors composed of a representative from each team and a representative of the Recreation association.

Trophies will be provided as follows: League champion; high individual scorer; high average game scorer; high foul shooting average.

Games will be played Monday and Thursday evenings on the high school floor. It is hoped to start operation of the circuit before the Christmas holidays. Rosters and player contracts were given to the team managers present.

Next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock the board of directors will meet at the high school gymnasium to make further plans. Practice sessions of the teams will be held that evening.

LOUIS, BRION CLASH TONIGHT

Chicago, Nov. 29 (AP)—Young Cesar Brion, full of vim and confidence, predicts a kayo within seven rounds of aging Joe Louis in their scheduled 10 rounder in Chicago stadium tonight.

The 23-year-old Argentine heavy-weight is at the short end of 4-1 odds to defeat Joe Louis, trying a second comeback at 36 after being decisively beaten in 15 rounds by Ezzard Charles last September, still thinks he packs enough dynamite to chill Brion.

Although not appearing impressive in training sessions, Louis says he will try to end the fight as soon as possible.

A crowd of possibly 10,000 and a $50,000 gate, largest since the International Boxing club began stadium promotions 18 months ago, may be realized. Louis will receive 37½ per cent of the net gate. His payoff may amount to less than $10,000—the smallest purse for a regular bout he ever has received. He made more in some of his exhibitions two years ago.

Both fighters will get a flat $1,000 each from radio and television fees. Brion will weigh 194, spotting the ex-heavyweight champion some 21 pounds. Joe expects to be three lighter than when he met Charles.

See Wintry Weather For Army-Navy Tilt

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—The 102,000 persons expected to watch the Army-Navy game at Municipal stadium Saturday may have to sit through an afternoon of sleet.

The weatherman said the long range forecast is for mixed rain and snow Saturday or Sunday.

Preparations went on, nonetheless, for the Army-Navy football viewers are hardy souls who would probably sit through the game even under the most adverse circumstances.

A spokesman for the Hotelmen's association said that nearly all the hotel rooms in the city have been sold for this week-end.

And there are no tickets to be bought. Most of the tickets go to members of the Army and Navy Football association, and if you don't know any of those gentlemen, your best bet is to reserve a television set to watch the show beginning at 1:30 p.m. (EST) Saturday.

DRESSEN WILL PROBE ILLS OF DODGER STAFF

By JOE REICHLER
Brooklyn, Nov. 29 (AP)—Brooklyn's disappointing Dodgers of 1950, especially the collapsible pitching staff, will be put through the wringer in 1951.

This was promised yesterday by new Manager Charlie Dressen, who was named to succeed Burt Shotton in a move that surprised nobody. Salary terms were not disclosed, but it was reported the figure is $40,000 a year.

"I've read everywhere that Brooklyn should have won the pennant by 10 games last year," Chuck told newsmen. "I wouldn't know. But I can tell you this. I'm going to find out."

"You ask me about the pitching staff which was such a disappointment last season," the former Dodger coach went on. "That's something I can't answer right now. All I know is that when I left the club, we had a 20-game winner in Ralph Branca and another sure-fire 20-game winner in Rex Barney. Something happened to them since. I don't know what it is. I sure am to find out."

Alters Policy
Dressen said he will discontinue the Dodger policy of having the players on all the Brooklyn farms train together with the parent club during the spring.

"The Brooklyn club will train at Vero Beach, Fla., by itself," he said. "Not until it leaves for Miami on March 10 will the minor leaguers be permitted to arrive. The Dodgers will then remain in Miami until we head north."

Dressen said he is well acquainted with the Dodger personnel although it has been four years since he served in the National league. After leaving Brooklyn in 1947 to join the Yankees in a similar coaching capacity, Charlie moved on to Oakland where he managed the past two years. He was paid $25,000 last season at Oakland. His team won the Pacific Coast league flag in 1950.

GERI HIGH IN 4 DEPARTMENTS OF PRO LEAGUE

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—Joe Geri, the young Pittsburgh Steelers halfback, is making a mockery of that old saw that a professional football player must be a specialist.

National Football league statistics released today showed that Geri ranks among the NFL leaders in no less than four departments.

The ex-Georgia star who hails from Phoenixville, Pa., placed third both in rushing and in passing, sixth in punting and eighth in scoring, and Geri is a heavy duty performer. He has carried the ball more often than any other player in the league.

By dint of a fancy performer against the Chicago Cardinals last week, Geri hopped up the ladder both in ground gaining and in passing.

Marion Motley, the Cleveland Browns' battering Ram, hung onto his lead in rushing with a 10-game total of 746 yards, more than 100 yards better than second place Frank Ziegler of the Philadelphia Eagles, who has 632 yards on 14 more tries than Motley. Geri, in third place, has 606 yards, 16 better than defending champion Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia.

Los Angeles' Norm Van Brocklin continued to lead the passers with a mark of 8.68 yards gained per pass. George Ratterman of the New York Yanks (8.08) held second while Geri (7.89) passed Bob Waterfield of Los Angeles (7.53) and Otto Graham of Cleveland (7.34).

The scoring race has settled down to a tight contest between rookie Doak Walker of Detroit and Jimmy Lujack of the Chicago Bears. Walker has piled up 104 points and Lujack 99.

Roberts Fails To Sign Phil Contract

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—The headaches of owning a pennant winner already are being felt by Robert R. M. Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Carpenter sat down yesterday to discuss salary terms with his star pitcher, Robin Roberts, but they were unable to agree on any figure.

The ace righthander won 20 and lost 11 last season and won the final game of the season from the Brooklyn Dodgers to clinch the National league flag for the Phillies.

After two long sessions with Carpenter, the youthful hurler said, "I don't think Bob and I will have any real trouble. I'm not hard to get along with."

Neither the club owner nor the pitcher would discuss the offering and asking price in their talks.

Roberts Fails To Sign Phil Contract

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—The headaches of owning a pennant winner already are being felt by Robert R. M. Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Carpenter sat down yesterday to discuss salary terms with his star pitcher, Robin Roberts, but they were unable to agree on any figure. The ace righthander won 20 and lost 11 last season and won the final game of the season from the Brooklyn Dodgers to clinch the National league flag for the Phillies.

After two long sessions with Carpenter, the youthful hurler said, "I don't think Bob and I will have any real trouble. I'm not hard to get along with."

Neither the club owner nor the pitcher would discuss the offering and asking price in their talks.

Emmitsburg HOLD SERVICES FOR DR. MARTIN

Burial services for Dr. Adrian A. Martin were conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m., at the Emmitsburg Presbyterian church with the minister, Rev. Charles Owens, officiating, assisted by Rev. Philip Bower. The choir sang "Abide with Me" and "Faith of Our Fathers." The Rev. Owens selected the text from 2nd Samuel, Chapter 3 and Verse 32: "Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel." The minister remarked in the introduction that these ancient words were fulfilled today in the death of Dr. Martin. He said Dr. Martin was "a prince in the community," where people have remarked that they could always depend upon him when they needed him. COST OF LIVING REACHES NEW ALL TIME HIGH

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The government's cost of living index today rose to a new all-time high. Nearly a million workers whose wage contracts are tied to the rise and fall of the index will receive a pay hike of two to three cents an hour.

The new index, covering prices as of Oct. 15, was 174.8 per cent of the 1935-39 base period, an increase of 0.6 per cent since September 15.

It was 0.2 per cent higher than the previous peak of 174.5 in August and September, 1948.

General Motors corporation, first of the major auto manufacturers to adopt the cost of living formula for its workers, announced immediately 357,000 hourly-rated workers will receive an additional three cents an hour. The boost will be effective with the first pay period beginning after Dec. 1.

Approximately 80,000 GM salaried workers will receive an additional $15 as their allowance for the period between December 1 and next March 1, to be paid at the close of the quarter next March.

General Motors is granting its workers the maximum allowance based on the rise in the cost of living between July 15 and October 15, having agreed with the CIO Auto Workers Union to incorporate a new rental adjustment advocated by the Bureau of Labor statistics in compiling the index.

The case may be different for other workers whose contracts also contain the cost of living formula. In the event their employers do not agree to the rental allowance—amounting to 1.3 percentage points in the index—they will receive only two cents an hour increase. That would be based on the actual rise in the index between July 15 and October 15.

Civil Defense Is
Chief Aim, Says Fine

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—Governor-elect John S. Fine said today that Pennsylvania's civil defense program will be one of the chief projects before the state legislature when it convenes in Harrisburg Jan. 2.

Fine, on a "working" vacation here, disclosed that in view of the present international situation he is ready to ask the legislature for any funds that Maj. Gen. Richard K. Mellon, state defense chief, says are needed.

"Pennsylvania will get the best available manpower and tools for the job," Fine said.

"Estimates now being prepared by General Mellon indicate that stockpiling of medical supplies and equipment may cost in the vicinity of $25,000,000."

Detroit, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ten persons were injured in a spectacular mid-morning crash of a hook-and-ladder fire truck and a streetcar Tuesday in Detroit's busy Cadillac Square. Five firemen, the streetcar motorman and four passengers were hurt, four possibly seriously. The $10,000 fire truck was jack-knifed, the streetcar derailed.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
TWENTY YEARS AGO

Wed Saturday: Miss Mary Elizabeth Evans and David M. Clapsadale, both of Gettysburg were married by W. A. Geiselman, clerk of the courts, at his office in the court house, Saturday afternoon.

Large Throngs Attend Opening:
Before an enthusiastic throng of pleasure seekers that crowded the large building, Burgess C. A. Heiges at 7 o'clock Saturday evening officially opened to the playing public the new Epley indoor miniature golf links in the former Gettysburg garage on York street. Many expressed the opinion that the new Epley links "overshadows in beauty of appointment and accuracy of design the most popular indoor courses in any of the larger eastern cities."

The general decorative scheme, planned by C. T. Ziegler, is taken from the Coronado Beach hotel, one of Southern California's most popular beauty spots.

David Blocher Dies: Death stalked through the ranks of Gettysburg's young merchants for the second time in two weeks and on Saturday morning claimed David Blocher, 33, proprietor of Blocher's jewelry store. His death was a shock to the entire community, his passing being sudden and with little warning to his intimates. His attending physicians and nurses sensed the end and everything within the powers of medical science was done to save his life but to no avail.

High School Presents Play: The three-act comedy, "Skidding" presented by the Gettysburg high school dramatic club Friday evening, pleased a large audience. The proceeds from the play will be used for athletics and dramatics at the school.

Miss Josephine Codori and Donald M. Swope displayed exceptional histrionic ability in the leading parts while the other members of the cast also gave clever interpretations of their roles. Considerable credit for the success of the presentation is due Miss Ruth McIlhenny and Miss Ruth Scott.

Besides the principles, the following were in the cast:

Misses Eleanor Zinn, Louise Hartzell, Florence Musselman and Margaret Waters; Wilbur King, Kermit Harbaugh, Eddie Hudson and Harold Dunkleberger.

Wed in Liverpool: Amos W. Glass and Mary J. Oyler, both of Gettysburg, R. D., were married by Rev. G. W. Frey, at Liverpool, Saturday.

Turkey Low: With one of the most plentiful, if not the best, turkey markets in years for choosing, the price of the Thanksgiving fowl, next week bids fair to be at a lower ebb than in many a turkey day. All of which is due, in marketers' opinions, to the driest year on record.

Thirty cent turkey will undoubtedly be easy to obtain early next week and even now the Baltimore markets are selling them for 22 to 28 cents, live weight.

Observe Founding of National Cemetery: Exercises marking the sixty-seventh anniversary of the dedication of the national cemetery and the delivery of Lincoln's address were held Wednesday afternoon and evening.

At 1 o'clock a group of members of the Sons of Veterans and other citizens gathered at the national monument in the national cemetery. Prayer was offered by the Rev. H. P. Beam. J. W. Bodley made a brief address. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. E. Scott, and taps sounded by Edward Hughes.

The post room on East Middle street was comfortably filled for the exercises in the evening. C. F. Bodley presided at the meeting. Among those present were Mrs. T. C. Billheimer and Leander Warren, who were present at the dedication.

Miss Katherine Kline Married on Tuesday: Miss Katherine M. Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

EXAMPLE

We can make few statements that do not furnish a revelation of ourselves to others, and in so doing, others are revealed to themselves. We are all attached to a universal kinship. We are forever given the privilege of reading the footnotes to other lives.

Most of the revealing of ourselves is done unconsciously. Like influence it spreads out but we can't see the movements of its fingers! Walking down a crowded street, the mere glance of a cheerful face gives to us an uplift in spirit, without a word being spoken. We are, in a very real sense, walking advertisements of character.

The late Logan Pearsall Smith delved into thousands of books that he might meet with unusual handling of words and thoughts. He, in turn, had published several volumes of quaint, wistful, and glowing thoughts that sparkle on their pages like early dew under the summer sun. A recent book entitled "Recollections of Logan Pearsall Smith," by a friend and associate of his, Robert Cathorne-Hardy, I found to be one of the most fascinating, about a noted man, that I have read in a long time. A lover of fine literature can well treasure it, as I do.

George Gissing, Lafcadio Hearn, Stevenson, and many other famous writers have owed the development of their style to the careful study of other great writers. We are all imitators, to a greater or lesser degree, that we may constantly grow and improve. People and books are our examples as well as all nature.

Thomas Carlyle wrote one of his most famous books on "Heroes and Hero Worship." It was one of my earliest favorites, and remains that to this day. Stephen Crane, hardly out of his teens, wrote a little book, "Maggie, a Girl of the Streets," that few paid any attention to at its publication in 1893, but which undoubtedly greatly influenced our more recent realistic literature.

Examples, by the masters in art, literature, and other forms of creative endeavor, are what have inspired all the progress of the world. To improve and surpass is the thought behind all our dreams—or should be—if we, too, would become an example.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "What Have I Done?"

TWO-GUN TERRY

Two-gun Terry! Two feet two, Wooden horse, but cowboy hat; Rope, a clothes line, good as new. Chaps and spurs. Just think of that.

Cold and calculating eyes Gazing at me as he stands Saying: "Stranger, you be wise! Drop that gun and raise your hands!"

Two-gun Terry! Left and right Pistols swinging at the hips, With all villains, glad to fight. Hero to the finger tips. In his speech a cowboy drawl; Foe to every bandit bold. Little boys, when I was small, Never searched for stolen gold.

Countless deaths a day I die, Grandpa being glad to play. Slow to raise my hands am I? Two-gun Terry fires away. But when we have had our tea Mother from his room will creep Saying: "Safe once more are we, Two-gun Terry's sound asleep." (Copyright, 1950, Edgar A. Guest)

OFFICIALS SAY DISASTER CAN BE AVERTED

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—High U.S. defense officials believe that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has enough machines and firepower to prevent a military disaster in Korea. But they said today the United Nations must decide whether the supreme commander in the Far East will be given sufficient men and the broadened orders he must have to destroy the Chinese Reds south of the Yalu river in the way he shattered their North Korean comrades south of Seoul.

U.S. military officials commented to a reporter that the Red breakthrough was achieved by force of manpower and that it apparently is not backed up with much artillery or armor.

Eye Chiang's Troops
They fully expect MacArthur to be able to reform his divisions along lines running roughly east and northeast of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, where the Allied superiority in artillery and tanks can hold the Chinese while U. N. superiority in the air pounds the invaders to the north.

This entire concept of U. N. and American chances in Korea is based upon the still prevailing assumption that Russia does not intend to make Korea the first battleground of a third World War.

If MacArthur requires more manpower, military officials say the only source of trained manpower that could quickly be thrown into the fighting in Korea is Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist army on Formosa. Chiang offered 30,000 of these men to the U. N. command a few days after the Red Korean attack in June.

MacArthur was the official mouthpiece for the rejection of this offer.

The reason given was that the departure of these Nationalist troops would weaken Formosa's defenses against a possible Red invasion attempt.

Automats Sell Dime Coffee Now

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—Another trace of the "good old days" vanished today. Horn and Hardart restaurants had raised the price of coffee from a nickel to a dime.

No more can you go into one of the automats here or in New York and get a cup of java for one nickel.

Now it costs two. All through the high priced days of the World War II, H&H kept coffee at the nickel price. "But, now, unfortunately," said a company spokesman yesterday, "it's got to go."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the
Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
TWENTY YEARS AGO

Wed Saturday: Miss Mary Elizabeth Evans and David M. Clapsad- die, both of Gettysburg were married by W. A. Geiselman, clerk of the courts, at his office in the court house, Saturday afternoon.

Large Throng Attend Opening: Before an enthusiastic throng of pleasure seekers that crowded the large building, Burgess C. A. Heiges at 7 o'clock Saturday evening officially opened to the playing public the new Epley indoor miniature golf links in the former Gettysburg garage on York street. Many expressed the opinion that the new Epley links "overshadow in beauty of appointment and accuracy of design the most popular indoor courses in any of the larger eastern cities."

David Blocher Dies: Death stalked through the ranks of Gettysburg's young merchants for the second time in two weeks and on Saturday morning claimed David Blocher, 33, proprietor of Blocher's jewelry store. His death was a shock to the entire community, his passing being sudden and with little warning to his intimates. His attending physicians and nurses sensed the end and everything within the powers of medical science was done to save his life but to no avail. . . .

High School Presents Play: The three-act comedy, "Skidding" presented by the Gettysburg high school dramatic club Friday evening, pleased a large audience. The proceeds from the play will be used for athletics and dramatics at the school.
Miss Josephine Codori and Donald M. Swope displayed exceptional histrionic ability in the leading parts while the other members of the cast also gave clever interpretations of their roles. Considerable credit for the success of the presentation is due Miss Ruth McIlhenny and Miss Ruth Scott.
Besides the principles, the following were in the cast:
Misses Eleanor Zinn, Louise Hartzell, Florence Musselman and Margaret Waters; Wilbur King, Kermit Harbaugh, Eddie Hudson and Harold Dunkleberger.

Wed in Liverpool: Amos W. Glass and Mary J. Oyler, both of Gardner, R. D., were married by Rev. G. W. Frey, at Liverpool, Saturday.

Turkey Low: With one of the most plentiful, if not the best, turkey markets in years for choosing, the price of the Thanksgiving fowl, next week bids fair to be at a lower ebb than in many a turkey day. All of which is due, in marketers' opinions, to the driest year on record.
Thirty cent turkey will undoubtedly be easy to obtain early next week and even now the Baltimore markets are selling them for 22 to 23 cents, live weight.

Observe Founding of National Cemetery: Exercises marking the sixty-seventh anniversary of the dedication of the national cemetery and the delivery of Lincoln's address were held Wednesday afternoon and evening.

At 1 o'clock a group of members of the Sons of Veterans and other citizens gathered at the national monument in the national cemetery.
Prayer was offered by the Rev. H. P. Beam. J. W. Bodley made a brief address. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. E. Scott, and taps sounded by Edward Hughes.

The post room on East Middle street was comfortably filled for the exercises in the evening. C. F. Bodley presided at the meeting. Among those present were Mrs. T. C. Billheimer and Leander Warren, who were present at the dedication.

Miss Katherine Kline Married on Tuesday: Miss Katherine M. Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
EXAMPLE

We can make few statements that do not furnish a revelation of ourselves to others, and in so doing, others are revealed to themselves. We are all attached to a universal kinship. We are forever given the privilege of reading the footnotes to other lives.

Most of the revealing of ourselves is done unconsciously. Like influence it spreads out but we can't see the movements of its fingers! Walking down a crowded street, the mere glance of a cheerful face gives to us an uplift in spirit, without a word being spoken. We are, in a very real sense, walking advertisements of character.

The late Logan Pearsall Smith delved into thousands of books that he might meet with unusual handling of words and thoughts. He, in turn, had published several volumes of quaint, wistful, and glowing thoughts that sparkle on their pages like early dew under the summer sun. A recent book entitled "Recollections of Logan Pearsall Smith," by a friend and associate of his, Robert Cathorne-Hardy, I found to be one of the most fascinating, about a noted man, that I have read in a long time. A lover of fine literature can well treasure it, as I do.

George Gissing, Lafcadio Hearn, Stevenson, and many other famous writers have owed the development of their style to the careful study of other great writers. We are all imitators, to a greater or lesser degree, that we may constantly grow and improve. People and books are our examples as well as all nature.

Thomas Carlyle wrote one of his most famous books on "Heroes and Hero Worship." It was one of my earliest favorites, and remains that to this day. Stephen Crane, hardly out of his teens, wrote a little book, "Maggie, a Girl of the Streets," that few paid any attention to at its publication in 1893, but which undoubtedly greatly influenced our more recent realistic literature.

Examples, by the masters in art, literature, and other forms of creative endeavor, are what have inspired all the progress of the world. To improve and surpass is the thought behind all our dreams—or should be—if we, too, would become an example.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "What Have I Done?"

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TWO-GUN TERRY
Two-gun Terry! Two feet two,
Wooden horse, but cowboy hat;
Rope, a clothes line, good as new.
Chaps and spurs. Just think of that!
Cold and calculating eyes
Gazing at me as he stands
Saying: "Stranger, you be wise!
Drop that gun and raise your hands!"

Pistols swinging at the hips,
With all villains, glad to fight,
Here to the finger tips.
In his speech a cowboy drawl;
Foe to every bandit bold.
Little boys, when I was small,
Never searched for stolen gold.

Countless deaths a day I die,
Grandpa being glad to play.
Slow to raise my hands am I?
Two-gun Terry fires away.
But when we have had our tea
Mother from his room will creep
Saying: "Safe once more are we,
Two-gun Terry's sound asleep."

OFFICIALS SAY DISASTER CAN BE AVERTED

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP) — High U.S. defense officials believe that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has enough machines and firepower to prevent a military disaster in Korea. But they said today the United Nations must decide whether the supreme commander in the Far East will be given sufficient men and the broadened orders he must have to destroy the Chinese Reds south of the Yalu river in the way he shattered their North Korean comrades south of Seoul.

U.S. military officials commented to a reporter that the Red breakthrough was achieved by force of manpower and that it apparently is not backed up with much artillery or armor.

Eye Chiang's Troops
They fully expect MacArthur to be able to reform his divisions along lines running roughly east and northeast of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, where the Allied superiority in artillery and tanks can hold the Chinese while U. N. superiority in the air pounds the invaders to the north.

This entire concept of U. N. and American chances in Korea is based upon the still prevailing assumption that Russia does not intend to make Korea the first battleground of a third World War.

If MacArthur requires more manpower, military officials say the only source of trained manpower that could quickly be thrown into the fighting in Korea is Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist army on Formosa. Chiang offered 30,000 of these men to the U.N. command a few days after the Red Korean attack in June.

MacArthur was the official mouthpiece for the rejection of this offer.

No more can you go into one of those automat machines and get a cup of java for one nickel. All through the high priced days of the World War II, H&H kept coffee at the nickel price. "But, now, unfortunately," said a company spokesman yesterday, "it's got to go."

GRAVE DECISION FACES U.S. IN KOREA CRISIS

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Chinese Communist offensive in Korea has confronted the United States with the gravest decisions since the start of World War II, administration officials said today.

The government's present intention, they said, is to deal with the situation in the United Nations and through intensive consultation with Britain, France and other U.N. member Allies in the struggle against spreading Red power in Asia.

These consultations are already under way. Some authorities said they may involve proposals for the use of political and economic sanctions against Communist China by the U.N.

Sanctions could mean cutting off all trade with China by non-Communist countries and curtailing or withdrawing diplomatic recognition accorded the Peiping regime by some countries.

Diplomats reported President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and other government leaders are determined on full consultations with Allied nations to avoid a split in the U.N. anti-Communist coalition which might result if the U. S. acted alone.

The National Security Council, with Mr. Truman presiding, talked over the new crisis for an hour and 15 minutes yesterday. Persons familiar with the situation said the secret session produced no hard and fast decisions on new steps to be taken.

It did result, these informants said, in a general agreement to continue pressing in the U.N. for adoption of a pending resolution demanding that the Chinese get their troops out of Korea. This is somewhat short of proposing that the U.N. brand Red China as an aggressor, which the U. S. government did on its own yesterday.

Formal action on this charge reportedly would not be sought now because it would have to be accompanied by proposals for action to deal with the aggression and there is no final agreement so far on what steps should be taken. Officials said that such questions as whether to carry the fight to Chinese territory by bombing supply centers north of the Korean border still aren't answered.

Plans were announced for the annual Ladies' Night to be held next Tuesday evening, December 5, at 7 o'clock, at the Cross Keys hotel. There will be a banquet and entertainment. The affair is informal.

McGee Elected

The club members voted to create a new office, that of "whip," and Carroll "Fibber" McGee was elected unanimously to this position, similar to a sergeant at arms.

Herbert Oyler, chairman of the Christmas lighting committee, reported that after two postponements, the lights would be turned on Friday evening at 7:30 p.m.

George Ramos was a guest of John Slentz, and was introduced by Mr. Slentz. There will be no business meeting next week because of the Ladies' Night program at Cross Keys.

PITTSBURGH BEGINS TO NEAR NORMAL AGAIN

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29 (AP) — Midtown department stores opened for business today for the first time since a record-breaking snowfall paralyzed this steel city.

Limited transportation facilities in the mighty industrial metropolitan area of 1,500,000 were taxed beyond capacity. The Pittsburgh railways company estimates only one-third of its bus and trolley routes are open. The department stores had been closed since Saturday.

So had steel mills and other industries which also gave return-to-work orders today.

Schools Still Closed
However, schools and colleges are remaining closed. Mayor David L. Lawrence has asked that every possible effort be made to provide transportation for workers whose services are needed most.

There's still a monumental snow removal problem in Pittsburgh and other sections slowly recovering from the storm which lashed the state with rain, sleet and snow.

Pittsburgh's snowfall which began last Friday now is listed at 29.1 inches. The previous record for one storm was 26.2 inches in 1925.

State Toll 39
Moderate temperatures, ranging from 32 to 37 degrees, are predicted today. There were a few snow flurries last night.

The storm death toll in the state is 39. Sixteen of the dead were in Pittsburgh's metropolitan area. The latest reported victim is a 7-month-old baby. A party found Lindy Ann Shumick dead in the snowbound cabin of her family near Uniontown. The mother said the food supply had been exhausted and that the baby became ill a few hours before the rescue party battled its way through towering drifts.

The storm damage in Pittsburgh and the remainder of the state can only be estimated in the millions.

Altoona Hit Hardest
Altoona, a city of 84,000, probably suffered the worst blow. Most of the town still is without electricity. Six transmission lines of the Pennsylvania Electric company were knocked out by heavy sleet last Saturday. In addition, hundreds of lines in the residential areas were torn down. A crew of 500 is working around the clock to restore power. Only one big transmission line is in service. An emergency hookup is providing electricity for three hospitals, in-

In Pittsburgh the midtown section is pretty well cleared of snow. Now the more than 2,000 workers are concentrating on the outlying sections. The snow removal job in metropolitan Pittsburgh alone is costing upwards of $500,000.

GRAVE DECISION FACES U.S. IN KOREA CRISIS

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Chinese Communist offensive in Korea has confronted the United States with the gravest decisions since the start of World War II, administration officials said today.

The government's present intention, they said, is to deal with the situation in the United Nations and through intensive consultation with Britain, France and other U.N. member allies in the struggle against spreading Red power in Asia.

These consultations are already under way. Some authorities said they may involve proposals for the use of political and economic sanctions against Communist China by the U.N.

Sanctions could mean cutting off all trade with China by non-Communist countries and curtailing or withdrawing diplomatic recognition accorded the Peiping regime by some countries.

Diplomats reported President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and other government leaders are determined on full consultations with Allied nations to avoid a split in the U.N. anti-Communist coalition which might result if the U. S. acted alone.

The National Security Council, with Mr. Truman presiding, talked over the new crisis for an hour and 15 minutes yesterday. Persons familiar with the situation said the secret session produced no hard and fast decisions on new steps to be taken.

It did result, these informants said, in a general agreement to continue pressing in the U.N. for adoption of a pending resolution demanding that the Chinese get their troops out of Korea. This is somewhat short of proposing that the U.N. brand Red China as an aggressor, which the U. S. government did on its own yesterday.

Formal action on this charge reportedly won't be sought now because it would have to be accompanied by proposals for action to deal with the aggression and there is no final agreement so far on what steps should be taken. Officials said that such questions as whether to carry the fight to Chinese territory by bombing supply centers north of the Korean border still aren't answered.

BIGLER PARADE ENTRIES REPORT BY NOON FRIDAY

Paul F. Osborn, chairman of the committee for the Biglerville Christmas parade to be held next Monday evening, today urged all those planning to enter floats, marching groups, individuals or couples, to call his office, Biglerville 76, by Friday noon. "It is important that the committee and parade marshal know, by that time, all entries, so that plans for the line-up, etc., can be completed," he said.

Commercial floats or entries are urged to participate, but do not compete for prizes.

Four prizes are offered for non-commercial floats. Any Biglerville school class, club, group or individual may prepare a float for entering in this group.

4 Prizes For Marchers
There are four prizes for marching groups. Biglerville grade school classes, clubs and other groups are invited to enter this contest.

Individuals or couples will compete for three prizes.

All entries are asked to be present at 6:30 p.m. Monday night so the parade marshal and his aides can start the parade promptly at 7:30 p.m. Three bands and the Biglerville Kitchenettes will furnish music for the occasion.

Turning on of the Christmas lights at 7:30 p.m. will signal the starting of the parade. The electricians are busy this week placing the strings of holly and colored lights.

Want Homes Decorated

The committee hopes that all home decorations will be completed by Monday evening to add to the overall Christmas spirit, although the home decorations will not be judged until December 18.

Immediately following the parade, the annual Christmas program will be held in the first block of South Main street, from which traffic will be detoured.

Amplifiers will be used, so that the large crowd expected can hear. Radio station WGET will broadcast the program as well as give a description of the parade as it passes the judges' stand.

POULTRY NEEDS VITAMINS

It can scarcely be denied that there have been many foolish and fraudulent advertising claims made for synthetic vitamins for human beings during the last decade. And perhaps in many cases persons have purchased costly vitamin preparations when they could have obtained the natural vitamin in simple but improved diets. But despite probable abuses of public confidence in this age when humanity seems bent on seeking cures for all ills and imaginary ills via the drug bottle and capsule, vitamins are not a passing fad. They are vital nutrients which human and animal and fowl bodies require for proper nourishment.

When this subject is studied from the standpoint of poultry feeding, particularly during fall and winter months when laying hens are subject to the limitations of curbed winter quarters and are at the complete mercy of human management of feeding, many important facts are met. Laying hens cannot obtain the nutrients needed to maintain bodily health and to manufacture eggs unless such materials are supplied in their daily rations. A bare feeding of corn or even a grain mixture in winter will not suffice. Long ago it was discovered that "all they can eat" is not enough for hens.

Perhaps vitamin D plays the most important role in poultry feeding. This is the so-called sunshine vitamin. Fowls obtain it directly from the sun during summer months when they enjoy freedom on the range. But after they are brought indoors they must be furnished vitamin D in their feed or their bodies will suffer from the deficiency, they will be unable to assimilate into their blood stream the lime (calcium) needed to manufacture egg shells, and such seasonal ills as colds, roup, influenza and perhaps aspergillosis will be more severe.

Vitamin D is obtained in winter by adding cod-liver oil to the mash. Most commercial mashes contain it in proper proportions. But if the tag does not indicate this fact, the poultryman should add a high-grade commercial cod-liver oil at the rate of 1.5 to 2.8 pounds per 100 pounds of mash.

Ordinary window glass screens this vitamin from the sun's rays. Too, the hours of sunshine in winter are too short to benefit hens even if substitute glass is used in the poultry house. Cod-liver oil must be fed to bridge the nutritional gap.

When hens show symptoms of swellings beneath their eyes and discharges from their nostrils, a disease known as nutritional roup is usually present. This results from a deficiency of vitamin A in the feed. Cod-liver oil is rich in this vitamin as well as in vitamin D. Yellow corn, alfalfa leaf meal, fresh green leafy vegetation, and raw carrots are also excellent sources. Herein is the reason why yellow (not white) corn is stressed for both mash and grain feeds for hens.

Polynuritis is characterized by loss of appetite, declining weight, weakness, and spasmodic movements of head and legs. It is more likely to affect growing birds but often appears among mature hens. It is caused by a lack of vitamin B in the

Offer Xmas Prizes For Fairfield Homes

The Fairfield Lions club, through the cooperation of interested citizens and business places, will offer prizes for the best decorated homes in Fairfield and surrounding vicinity during the Christmas season.

Prizes totaling $65 will be distributed as follows: First prize, best decorated home, $15.00; second prize, second best decorated home, $10.00; third prize, eight prizes of $5.00 each to the eight best decorated homes.

In addition to the prizes for the ration. Whole grains and green vegetation offer adequate sources of this vitamin. However, it must be fed daily because the bird's body, like human bodies, do not have the power to store vitamin B. This is another reason why green feed is important daily for laying hens in winter.

A free copy of our condensed feeding guide—Feeding For Winter Eggs—will be sent to readers who furnish the editor a self-addressed stamped envelope.

BIGLER WOMEN LISTS PROJECTS TO BE STUDIED

The meetings of the Biglerville Women's group which developed from a town meeting held during the past summer will further result in establishment of a number of interest groups in the upper community town, the women decided Tuesday evening.

Meeting at the Biglerville auditorium for a session that included musical entertainment and a demonstration on making Christmas ornaments as well as a business session, the women voted to organize a number of interest groups and the 125 present wrote out their preferences as to the group they would most like to join if the plan can be worked out.

No tally was made immediately of the preferences listed. That will come over the next several weeks when those interested in various activities will be called together to establish their groups.

The women's group also named a steering committee to consider plans for future meetings and generally in carrying on the business of the unit.

Each of the women present at the meeting listed the names of two persons she would like to see on the steering committee. A tally was then made of the nominations and the 10 receiving the most votes were declared elected.

So far, she told the group, the Kitchenettes have earned more than $200 to be used for some project to better the Biglerville community. The Kitchenettes are still seeking engagements, she added, in order to raise more money for the fund.

Plans for a program to be held by the Kitchenettes this coming spring were outlined by Mrs. Harbaugh. The women's group agreed to hold a food sale in connection with the Kitchenettes' program.

Further ideas for the betterment of the Biglerville community were named at Tuesday night's meeting. When the women entered the community hall they found a receptionist at the door to ask their ideas for community improvement projects.

Mrs. Jean Thomas presided at the meeting.

NAME JUDGES FOR AMATEUR SHOW JAN. 20

Judge W. C. Sheely, Parker B. Wagnild, head of the music department at Gettysburg college, and Mrs. Edwin J. Killalea, director of the Adams County Little Theater Group, will be the judges for the amateur show to be held January 20 at the South Mountain Fair Grounds auditorium. A. H. Good, president of the Cannonball chapter of the Pennsylvania Young Farmers' association, announced today.

A $25 top prize for the best amateur is being offered for the show to be conducted by the Young Farmers' group which hopes to attract persons of talent from throughout the county for the show, the first of its type to be held in the Arendtsville park.

According to the plans announced by the group, approximately 30 different acts will be presented during the performance including a number by upper countians.

Members of the Cannonball chapter, who reside mostly in the upper portion of the county, are seeking out persons of talent for the amateur production. At the same time they hope that persons who may have some skill such as singing, dancing, magic, or other ability as an entertainer will get in touch with President Good, who resides on Gettysburg R. 4, or other members of the organization, to make arrangements for participation in the show.

Select Machinery—Farm machinery and equipment must be selected carefully to meet power needs on the farm, says Howard Bingham, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. The machine which the farmer buys must be useful, versatile, durable and economical in operation. Its job is to get the work done.

Keep Garden Seeds—Many leftover vegetable seeds may be kept for planting next spring, but should be stored at about 50 degrees F., says J. O. Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable specialist.

Short Course Ready On General Farming

Registrations are now being accepted for the short course on general farming at the Pennsylvania State college. In making this announcement, A. L. Beam, director of short courses, said the course is scheduled for January 3 to January 31, and that in previous years many of those enrolling stayed on for either the live-stock or dairy farming courses which run from January 31 to February 28.

In the general farming instruction, emphasis is placed on the economical production of field crops, maintenance of soil fertility, proper use of lime and fertilizers, and especially the production of roughages and grains. Farm management, farm machinery, and rural life subjects also are included.

Because size of the classes will be restricted, Prof. Beam urged early registration. In addition, all general farming short course students will be quartered in dormitories on the campus this year, rather than in private homes, he explained.

New Mechanical Aid For Poultry Chores

Research workers of the poultry and agricultural engineering departments at the Pennsylvania State college have developed a new mechanical aid for poultry chores. Details of the new labor-saver have been published as Progress Report 37, by the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station, entitled, "A Mechanical Cleaner for Poultry Droppings Pits." The report is available without cost.

The new device, however, is more than a cleanger. In addition to cleaning the litter, automatically, with electric power, the unit permits use of the Penn State automatic poultry feeder, automatic waterers, and is equipped with roosts. Thus, the device feeds, waters, gives the birds a roosting perch, and then cleans the droppings, all mechanically.

Considerable interest was shown in the new device when it was displayed at the recent exposition of the North East Poultry Producers Council. Tests are under way with the combination in pens at the poultry plant at Penn State.

MANY NIMRODS HUNTING DEER

If all the upper countians who have gone deer hunting return from the hunt successful, venison should become a staple upper county diet.

Many families in the area are represented in the hills either by individual hunters, or by members who are taking part in the hunt with various camps or groups located both in the South Mountains here and in the upper part of the state.

An unusually large number of upper countians seems to have gone to Potter county and various other favorite hunting sections of the state, according to the report.

A number of upper countians who were opposed to the open doe season, seem to have stuck by their guns as far as their personal hunting plans were concerned and did not begin their hunting until today with the opening of the buck season.

Several families contacted Tuesday said that the hunting members of the clan had gone to the mountains Tuesday, but went merely to seek out places in which buck might be found, some not even carrying guns with them.

Among those from the upper part of the county who are hunting deer are Clyde Allison, Ray Flockinger, Robert Allison, Harvey Raffensperger, Mervin Stover, Edward Orner, Francis, Harry and Paul Hall. The list was described by David Houck, who gave the names, as "just those who come to mind at first. If there were time to write down a complete list it would probably fill several pages of paper."

Store Machinery—Proper winter storage prolongs the life of farm machines, holds down repair costs, and releases time and labor for other farm activities, declares Howard Bingham, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. Proper care of equipment is urgent under present high prices.

Prune Hardy Trees—Fall pruning may be necessary in large orchards in order to get the whole job done before spring, reminds C. S. Bittner, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Only the hardest trees, apple and pear, should be pruned first. Next in hardness

College Paper To Publish His Essay

Mr. and Mrs. W. Klink Myers, Hunters Run, have been notified by Shippensburg State Teachers' college officials that an essay written by their son, Jack, will appear in the current issue of the college publication, "The Campus Reflector." The paper is comprised of sketches of Shakespearean works.

Myers, 20, is a sophomore at the college, and is a graduate of Carlisle high school. He returned to his classes at Shippensburg Monday after spending the Thanksgiving holiday with his parents at Hunters Run.

are plums and sour cherries, with peach and sweet cherry last.

Corn Must Ripen—Because many farmers had a great deal of soft corn this year, they will be looking for hybrids that will ripen next year. Frank G. Bamer, Penn State extension agronomist, suggests that farmers check on results of local corn demonstrations.

Allow Ample Space—Chicks hatched in fall and winter will need more space as they grow, reminds F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist. In fact, they need more house space at this time than in spring and summer when they can spend some time outdoors.

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

BIGLER WOMEN LISTS PROJECTS TO BE STUDIED

The meetings of the Biglerville Women's group which developed from a town meeting held during the past summer will further result in establishment of a number of interest groups in the upper community town, the women decided Tuesday evening.

Meeting at the Biglerville auditorium for a session that included musical entertainment and a demonstration on making Christmas ornaments as well as a business session, the women voted to organize a number of interest groups and the 125 present wrote out their preferences as to the group they would most like to join if the plan can be worked out.

No tally was made immediately of the preferences listed. That will come over the next several weeks when those interested in various activities will be called together to establish their groups.

The women's group also named a steering committee to consider plans for future meetings and generally aid in carrying on the business of the unit.

Each of the women present at the meeting listed the names of two persons she would like to see on the steering committee. A tally was then made of the nominations and the 10 receiving the most votes were declared elected.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

BIGLER PARADE ENTRIES REPORT BY NOON FRIDAY

Paul F. Osborn, chairman of the committee for the Biglerville Christmas parade to be held next Monday evening, today urged all those planning to enter floats, marching groups, etc., to be ready by Friday noon. It is important that the committee and parade marshal know, by that time, all entries, so that plans for the line-up, etc., can be completed, he said.

Commercial floats or entries are urged to participate, but do not compete for prizes.

Four prizes are offered for non-commercial floats. Any Biglerville school class, club, group or individual may prepare a float for entering in this group.

Prizes For Marchers
There are four prizes for marching groups. Biglerville grade school classes, clubs and other groups are invited to enter this contest.

Individuals or couples will compete for three prizes.
All entries are asked to be present at 6:30 p.m. Monday night so the parade marshal and his aides can start the parade promptly at 7:30 p.m. Three bands and the Biglerville Kitchenettes will furnish music for the occasion.

Turning on of the Christmas lights at 7:30 p.m. will signal the starting of the parade. The electricians are busy this week placing the strings of holly and colored lights.

Want Homes Decorated
The committee hopes that all home decorations will be completed by Monday evening to add to the overall Christmas spirit, although the home decorations will not be judged until December 18.

Immediately following the parade, the annual Christmas program will be held in the first block of South Main street, from which traffic will be detoured.
Amplifiers will be used, so that the large crowd expected can hear. Radio station WGET will broadcast the program as well as give a description of the parade as it passes the judges' stand.

Safe Dairy Cows—One of the dairy herd includes clipping, says L. C. Calmore, Penn State extension dairy specialist. Clipping helps produce clean milk, reduces labor needed in care of the herd, helps control cattle lice, and improves the appearance of the cattle.

Use Safe Rat Poison—Fortified red squill, either powder or liquid form, is the safe rat poison, explains E. J. Udine, Penn State extension entomologist. Some other rat poisons are extremely dangerous to other animals and to humans, he warns.

POULTRY NEEDS VITAMINS
It can scarcely be denied that there have been many foolish and fraudulent advertising claims made for synthetic vitamins for human beings during the last decade. And perhaps in many cases persons have purchased costly vitamin preparations when they could have obtained the natural vitamin in simple but unimproved diets. But despite probable abuses of public confidence in this age when humanity seems bent on seeking cures for all ills and imaginary ills via the drug bottle and capsule, vitamins are not a passing fad. They are vital nutrients which human and animal and feed sources require for proper nourishment.

When this subject is studied from the standpoint of poultry feeding, particularly during fall and winter months when laying hens are subject to the limitations of curbed winter quarters and are at the complete mercy of human management, of feeding, many important facts are met. Laying hens cannot obtain the nutrients needed to maintain bodily health and to manufacture eggs unless such materials are supplied in their daily rations. A bare feeding of corn or even a grain mixture in winter will not suffice. Long ago it was discovered that all they can eat is not enough for hens.

Perhaps vitamin D plays the most important role in poultry feeding. This is the so-called sunshine vitamin. Fowls obtain it directly from the sun during summer months when they enjoy freedom on the range. But after they are brought indoors they must be furnished vitamin D in their feed or their bodies will suffer from the deficiency. They will be unable to assimilate into their blood stream the lime (calcium) needed to manufacture egg shells, and such seasonal ills as colds, roup, influenza and perhaps aspergillosis will be more severe.

Vitamin D is obtained in winter by adding cod-liver oil to the mash. Most commercial mashes contain it in proper proportions. But if the tag does not indicate this fact, the poultryman should add a high-grade commercial cod-liver oil at the rate of 1.5 to 2.8 pounds per 100 pounds of mash.
Ordinary window glass screens this vitamin from the sun's rays. Too few hours of sunshine in winter are too short to benefit hens even if substitute glass is used in the poultry house. Cod-liver oil must be fed to bridge the nutritional gap.

Offer Xmas Prizes For Fairfield Homes

The Fairfield Lions club, through the cooperation of interested citizens and business places will offer prizes for the best decorated home in Fairfield and surrounding vicinity during the Christmas season.

Prizes totaling $65 will be distributed as follows: First prize, best decorated home, $15.00; second prize, second best decorated home, $10.00; third prize, best prize of $5.00 each to the eight best decorated homes.

In addition to the prizes for the selection. Whole grains and green vegetation offer adequate sources of this vitamin. However, it must be fed daily because the bird's body, like human bones, do not have the power to store vitamin B. This is important during winter when feed is important daily for laying hens in winter.

A free copy of our condensed feeding guide—Feeding For Winter Eggs—will be sent to readers who furnish the editor a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Allis-Chalmers MOTOR KIT
gives new life to your tractor

Want us to make your tractor run like new again? Now is a good time to schedule it for a power overhaul.

Let us install an A-C Motor Kit, the factory-made repair package for a complete renewal of the "power zone" of your tractor engine. It contains cylinder liners, pistons and rings. Because these parts wear together, they should all be replaced at the same time to give new engine performance.

These kits are made of the same materials and to the same specifications as the original parts in your Allis-Chalmers tractor.

The sure way to renew Allis-Chalmers performance is with genuine Allis-Chalmers parts and service.

ROUNDUP OF FARM NEWS
IN THIS STATE

By JOHN DETTRICK

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 — Pennsylvania's 400 bushel potato club has the distinction of being the oldest agricultural production club in the nation.

The club entered its 35th year with the 1950 potato crop.

To qualify for membership in the club, a potato grower must produce a potato crop with at least one acre, showing a yield of not less than 400 bushels of potatoes.

The Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers association, sponsor of the club, credits it as one of the biggest factors in making the Keystone potato grower conscious of improved methods of growing potatoes.

Since the club's inception, a total of 1261 farmers have made the membership grade.

Reports On Fairs Lag

Pennsylvania Fair associations are lagging in submitting annual reports to the State Agriculture department for determination of state aid grants.

Deadline for submission of such reports is December 15.

The Department said that only about a dozen of the county and community fair associations have filed premium reports so far. It added

WINTER FORECAST: Perfect Comfort

Much of the comfort and convenience we enjoy in home heating today was developed by the oil industry. No wonder so many Americans prefer to heat their homes with fuel oil. And this winter more Americans will be heating with oil than ever before.

If you heat with fuel oil, you're just as much interested in service as in the quality of the products you receive. That's why we're glad we can say we stand ready to supply you not only with the best products but also with the most dependable service you have ever known. The tough competition we are up against in the marketing of fuel is your constant guarantee of that.

This community is serviced by many different fuel oil dealers. To win and hold your business, we've got to do a stand-out job for you—no matter what the weather, no matter where you live. For if we don't we know you'll take your trade elsewhere — just as you should.

We'd welcome the chance to serve you this winter, and keep your storage tank filled automatically. One telephone call to us today will insure perfect heating comfort for you and your family all winter long.

Always Use TEXACO FURNACE OIL and you get clean, filtered, high heat producing results. Always delivered to you through tested meters and accurate stamped tickets for your safety.
